

John P. Gallagher, PhD, Professor of the Practice of Management Education and Associate Dean for the Executive MBA programs; BA (University of California, Berkeley), PhD (University of California, Santa Barbara) Professor Gallagher's research interests focus on the use of advanced computing technology in group-oriented problem solving. In particular, he has addressed the application of computer based collaboration and communication technologies to teaching and learning.