130-year-old Kodak also entered! Blockchain is "subversing" all industries?

2018-01-12 20:18

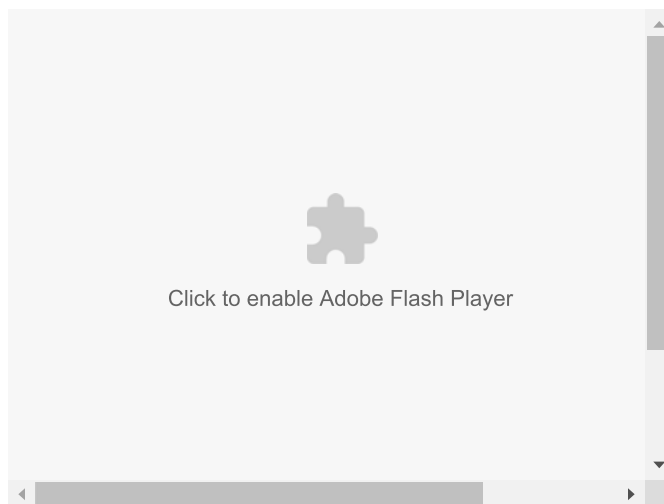

block chain

[ Word Count: 957, Reading Time: About 4 Minutes ]

Blockchain concept is being touted, enterprises in various fields have entered, many competing chase capital. Campbell Harvey, a professor of finance at Duke University, said the blockchain can change all industries, and that the problem lies only in time. Blockchain brings together some of the more basic computer technologies. With this technology, people can complete the exchange of information without the need for credible third parties, and also ensure the integrity of the information exchanged.

To real estate transactions, for example, in the past people need to show proof to the bank, but also ask the intermediary to guarantee. With the application of blockchain technology, assets can exist in digital form on the Internet, and can be safely and effectively transferred at low cost. There is no need to worry about more than one room selling and financial fraud.

It can be said that the blockchain technology is the core technology that drives the change of the Internet and will promote the evolution of the information internet to the value Internet. The role of blockchain should not be underestimated. Want to know how blockchain affects various industries? Open the video to see it!
